

Negative reactions, side effects:

Several patients complained of light, short lasting headaches. One child became nauseated during half of the treatment. A scoliosis patient reported pain in the carotid region.

A young boy showed increase in hyperkinesia with consequent termination of treatment.

Negatively, it must be noted that one of the epileptic patients with high aggressivity exhibited an increase in the frequency of seizures in spite of the administration of antiepileptic medication.